

Alexandria Gazette

TUESDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 11.

The new Hotel de Ville, in Paris, will be finished by the end of this year. The walls are already up to the first story. The reconstruction of the Tuileries has also been agreed upon. The idea seems to be to efface the marks left by the Commune by the time that the Great Exhibition of 1878 is held.

Originally the peach was a poisonous almond. In olden times its fleshy parts were used to poison arrows, and it was for this purpose introduced into Persia. The transportation and cultivation not only removed its poisonous properties, but produced the delicious fruit which we now enjoy every season.

Mrs. Brooks, who models heads in butter, is a small, dark haired woman, who is enthusiastic about her work, and she makes her heads with two little wooden paddles of different sizes. She has a farm in Arkansas, to which she will return, if her art does not prove remunerative.

Lord Macaulay made it a rule to pay all bills within twenty-four hours. "I think," he said, "that prompt payment is a moral duty, knowing as I do how painful it is to have such things deferred."
